

Robert Carroll Boutwell

Robert Carroll Boutwell has served on the Board of Trustees of the Charles H. Hood Foundation since January 2014, where he serves as the Lead of the Grants Subcommittee of the Board.

Rob works as an in-house attorney at Sobi, Inc., a pharmaceutical company focused on developing and delivering therapies in the immunology, hematology and specialty care rare disease space to improve health outcomes and qualities of lives for pediatric and adult patients. In his role as Director of Legal, Ethics and Compliance, North America, Rob is responsible for internal investigations, litigation and auditing and monitoring. Rob also serves as the Privacy Officer for Sobi North America, collaborating closely with the global Data Protection Officer and other legal and compliance colleagues associated with Sobi AB, Sobi, Inc.'s publicly traded parent company headquartered in Stockholm, Sweden.

Rob graduated from Harvard College with a B.A. in Government in 2006 and subsequently from the University of Virginia School of Law, where he was honored to receive the 2010 Virginia Trial Lawyers Association Trial Advocacy Award. He resides in Belmont, Massachusetts with his wife, Paula, their brilliant and beautiful young daughter Lilly, and their ever-energetic and vivacious black lab/golden retriever mix, Russell.